

Delaware Estuary Science & Environmental Summit 2017

-- Program Addendum--

Monday, January 23

Late morning

- The authors for “Identifying Litter Accumulation Areas on the Tidal Portions of the Delaware River: Field Surveys, Laboratory Analyses, and Cleanups” should be Jay Kelly, Catie Tobin and Cindy Zipf
- Martha Maxwell-Doyle will replace Heather Jensen as moderator for the “Post Sandy Lessons” session
- Heather Knizhnik will be giving Eugene Chebra’s talk in the Post Sandy session, and the title has been changed to “NJ Resiliency Projects in the Wake of Superstorm Sandy.”

Early afternoon

- Bob Hamilton will be presenting for Mara Orescanin on “Restoration of Vulnerable and Damaged Marsh Ecosystems to Improve Response to Sea Level Rise”
- Tom Amidon will replace Joe Tarsavage as moderator for the “Connect the Dots – Leveraging Community Partnerships and Media Relations to Elevate Nonprofit Success” session.
- Meredith Brown’s presentation in the Water Quality session should be titled “Connecting the Drops: Stormwater Management in Bridgeton City and Upper Deerfield”

Late afternoon

- The authors for “Beneficial Reuse of Dredge Material for Salt Marsh Restoration: Early Recovery of Vegetation and Epifaunal Macroinvertebrates” should be Jessie Buckner, Metthea Yepsen, and Adrianna Zito-Livingston
- The order of the talks “Bearing Capacity...” and “Beneficial Reuse...”, both presented by Jessie Buckner, will be switched.
- Kathleen Drake will replace Joel Pecchioli as moderator for the “Thin Layer Placement Coastal Wetlands” session.
- There will be a talk inserted into the Thin Layer Placement Session entitled “Beneficially Using Dredge Material to Boost a Salt Marsh along Pepper Creek, Delaware” by Alison Rogerson at 4:45pm

Tuesday, January 24

Late morning

- Nicole Rodi will be presenting Amanda Santoni’s talk “The Value of Delaware’s Tidal Wetland Ecosystem Services: A Choice Experiment.”

Early afternoon

- Sarah Bouboulis will join Erin Reilly as a moderator for NJ Bayshore and Vicinity Session.

Late afternoon

- Tom Amidon will replace Joe Tarsavage as moderator for the “Social Marketing: Hands on Workshop Part II” session.

Wednesday, January 25

Early Morning

- Presenter Caroline Gray will be joined by Westin Mullings, Paige Prado, and Shareef Polk in the “Connecting Youth to the Environment” session

-

Late morning

- Hot topics session will be moderated by Douglas Janiec and Jerry Kauffman
- The first talk in Hot Topics has been changed to “Coalition for the Delaware River Watershed Discussion” by Madeline Urbish.
- “Green vs. Gray – A Business Perspective” will only be presented by Douglas Janiec.

Additional Posters

Estuary Restoration

Kyle Runion. Does Living Shoreline Design Affect Vegetation Diversity?

Capt. Al Modjeski. Delaware Bay Resiliency Restoration Projects: An Update.

Jessica Hammond. Milford Neck Conservation Area Marsh Restoration.

Living Resources

Daphne Munroe. Horseshoe Crab Activity and Interactions on Rack-and-Bag Oyster Farms.

Joseph Caracappa. *Maternal and Salinity Effects on Blue Crab (Callinectes sapidus) Larval Morphology: Implications for Biophysical Interactions.*

Patricia Woodruff. Horseshoe Crabs on Beaches Near Active Oyster Aquaculture Farms on the New Jersey Delaware Bayshore.

Monitoring and Assessment

Sarah Borsetti. *Early Post-Settlement Growth in Wild Eastern Oyster (Crassostrea virginica Gmelin 1791) Populations.*